PROFILE

I am doing a diploma in interactive and digital media. I'm passionate about diving into the world of front-end web development, especially after honing my skills with Adobe suites, VS Code, and 3D design during my time at Polytechnics Mauritius. As I wait for my grades to come in, I'm reflecting on the diverse set of computer skills I've picked up. They've not only prepared me for the quick tempo of the tech scene but also stoked the excitement for my career journey ahead. And though I've got my sights set on front-end development, I'm pretty flexible and open to exploring wherever the tech winds might carry me.
